MESSAGE

I am delighted to learn that NACE International India Section is organizing an International Conference & Expo on Corrosion (CORCON 2017) to promote Corrosion awareness and establish Corrosion prevention strategies and technologies.

I believe there is an imperative need to train the Corrosion Professionals on the field about the techniques to detect and prevent Corrosion.

It is also heartening to note that the NACE International is going to bring out a Conference Souvenir and will present Corrosion Awareness Awards to honour individuals and organizations for their contribution to Corrosion.

I congratulate the office bearers of the NACE International for the meritorious service in this direction and wish them all success in all their future endeavours.
